NISH CHAROLAIS

Welcome to our
Yearling Charolais Bull Sale!

We can't believe it is this time of year again, in all honesty this year has been one of the longest ones we have had. I don't think we had a fall; straight from spring to winter. Over the years Charolais cattle have earned the reputation of being one of the best ways to increase the size of the calves in the fall. The Charolais calves wean heavier and more weight = more money. The bulls we have on offer are a very strong set and we feel we have a bull for every breeder. We have been in the Charolais business for 50 years and are constantly trying to bring the best that the Charolais breed has to offer. We stand behind our bulls 100% and are committed to having well sound and working bulls. Please come by the farm and see the bulls anytime.

- Revive was getting older and we felt that his calves were very well put together and he was out of one of my favorite cows for udder temperament and body condition. She had this son and all through the summer we watched him grow he was one that stood out and had all the qualities that we look for in a bull. He was solid from day one he looks good on paper and also in the pen so we kept him and have been impressed with the results so far and will have more of him next year.

EPD EXPLANATION

EPD's = Expected Progeny Differences

1. EPD's are a very simple to understand and easy to use selection tool for the purebred and the commercial cattlemen.
2. EPD's are the most accurate means to date for estimating the true breeding value of an animal in regard to certain economically important traits.
3. EPD's provide a genetic description for the traits included in the Charolais Sire Summary - birth weight, weaning weight, milk, total maternal, yearling weight, as well as carcass traits - carcass weight, rib eye area, backfat thickness, lean yield and marbling score.
4. EPD's are expressed in the actual unit of measure for a given trait. As an example, EPD's for traits such as birth weight, weaning weight, and yearling weight are expressed in pounds.

The tables below show how the EPD's of two bulls within the North American Cattle Evaluation may be compared to estimate the differences that can be expected in progeny performance.

	Birth Wt EPD (Acc)	Wng Wt EPD (Acc)	Ylg Wt EPD (Acc)	Milk EPD (Acc)	Tot Mat EPD (Acc)
SIRE A	+3.5 (.94)	+35.0 (.93)	+60.5 (.85)	+12.5 (.78)	+30.0 (.83)
SIRE B	-1.0 (.92)	+20.0 (.90)	+40.0 (.83)	0.0 (.81)	+10.0 (.84)
DIFFERENCE	4.5	15.0	20.5	12.5	20

Based upon the values given, you would expect the average weights of progeny by SIRE A to exceed the average weight of progeny by SIRE B by 4.5 lbs. at birth, 15.0 lbs. at 205 days and 20.5 lbs. at 365 days, given they were mated to cows with the same genetic merit and the resulting calves were raised in the same environment. Thus, we could expect that if large numbers of daughters from the above matings were put into production, the progeny of SIRE A's daughters would average 20 lbs. more than the progeny of SIRE B's daughters at weaning. The maternal influence (milk & mothering ability) supplied by the daughters of SIRE A would account for 12.5 pounds of this weight advantage. Another 7.5 pounds could be attributed to growth genetics (1/2 the Weaning Weight difference) from the daughters of SIRE A resulting in a 20 lb. overall advantage for SIRE A for Total Maternal.

PREDICTED MATING EPD'S:

Rather than using EPD's for individual animal selection or culling decisions, it is also possible to predict the outcome of a proposed mating by averaging the EPD's of the sire and dam in question. This allows us to estimate the genetic merit of a proposed breeding without actually investing all the time and effort into breeding the animals unless there is potential to produce an animal of superior genetic merit. The table to follow gives an example of how you can predict the EPD's for the progeny of a proposed mating:

	Birth Wt EPD (Acc)	Wng Wt EPD (Acc)	Ylg Wt EPD (Acc)	Milk EPD (Acc)	Tot Mat EPD (Acc)
SIRE	+4.0 (0.76)	+9.2 (0.66)	+25.2 (0.59)	+4.6 (0.50)	+9.2 (0.55)
DAM	-0.7 (0.42)	-0.4 (0.57)	+4.3 (0.52)	-4.1 (0.48)	-1.3 (.52)
PROGENY EST	+1.65 lbs.	+4.4 lbs.	+14.75	+0.25 lbs.	+2.45 lbs.

CHAROLAIS BREED AVERAGE EPD'S FOR 2019/2020:

BW: +0.9 WW +44.1 YW +84.8 Milk +21.5 TM +43.5

These are the averages to compare the Yearling Bulls in the catalogue to.
