It's been an exciting year and we are happy to make it to our 51st year in the Charolais business. We are here to provide you with exceptional Charolais Bulls that will be an asset to your ranching operation. Charolais cross cattle continue to be in great demand. With good Charolais cross calves you get good weaning weights, great weight gain, and the best yearling weights. This will put you on top of the ranching community. We are always on the lookout to bring you the top Charolais genetics out there. In the cattle business you need to have the best calves possible as you head to market and we believe that a Charolais Bull is the best place to start. We stand behind our bulls 100% and are committed to having well sound and working bulls. Please come by the farm and see the bulls any time.

BOSS FEEDS

I am excited to share with you the news that has been a year in the making. Brett Stewart and I (Burke Nish) have brought the first cooked lick tub plant into Canada. We have partnered up with Pro Earth Animal Health from the States and are producing a lick tub product that you truly need to see for yourself. It contains the cattle active ingredient and we have seen some amazing results with this product and are excited to be able to bring them to you. We have also been able to purchase the rights to what will be the toughest net wrap with the best UV rating. We have tried all these products on our own farm and with our cattle and found them to be the best out there. Our goal is to keep the cost affordable and the best quality you can find. To visit more about these products call me anytime Burke Nish 403-653-7544.

Revive was getting older and we felt that his calves were very well put together and he was out of one of my favorite cows for udder temperament and body condition. She had this son and all through the summer we watched him grow he was one that stood out and had all the qualities that we look for in a bull. He was solid from day one he looks good on paper and also in the pen so we kept him and have been impressed with the results so far and will have more of him next year.

NISH CHAROLAIS RESERVES THE RIGHT TO COLLECT SEMEN ON ANY BULL IN THE SALE AT THE SELLER'S EXPENSE AND THE BUYER'S CONVENIENCE.

Buyers; NOTES

EPD EXPLANATIONS

EPD'S = EXPECTED PROGENY DIFFERENCES

1. EPD's are a very simple to understand and easy to use selection tool for the purebred and the commercial cattlemen.
2. EPD's are the most accurate means to date for estimating the true breeding value of an animal in regard to certain economically important traits.
3. EPD's provide a genetic description for the traits included in the Charolais Sire Summary - birth weight, weaning weight, milk, total maternal, yearling weight, as well as carcass traits - carcass weight, rib eye area, backfat thickness, lean yield and marbling score.
4. EPD's are expressed in the actual unit of measure for a given trait. As an example, EPD's for traits such as birth weight, weaning weight, and yearling weight are expressed in pounds.

The tables below show how the EPD's of two bulls within the North American Cattle Evaluation may be compared to estimate the differences that can be expected in progeny performance.

	Birth Wt EPD (Acc)	Wng Wt EPD (Acc)	Ylg Wt EPD (Acc)	Milk EPD (Acc)	Tot Mat EPD (Acc)
SIRE A	+3.5 (.94)	+35.0 (.93)	+60.5 (.85)	+12.5 (.78)	+30.0 (.83)
SIRE B	-1.0 (.92)	+20.0 (.90)	+40.0 (.83)	0.0 (.81)	+10.0 (.84)
DIFFERENCE	4.5	15.0	20.5	12.5	20

Based upon the values given, you would expect the average weights of progeny by SIRE A to exceed the average weight of progeny by SIRE B by 4.5 lbs. at birth, 15.0 lbs. at 205 days and 20.5 lbs. at 365 days, given they were mated to cows with the same genetic merit and the resulting calves were raised in the same environment. Thus, we could expect that if large numbers of daughters from the above matings were put into production, the progeny of SIRE A's daughters would average 20 lbs. more than the progeny of SIRE B's daughter's at weaning. The maternal influence (milk & mothering ability) supplied by the daughters of SIRE A would account for 12.5 pounds of this weight advantage. Another 7.5 pounds could be attributed to growth genetics (1/2 the Weaning Weight difference) from the daughters of SIRE A resulting in a 20 lb. overall advantage for SIRE A for Total Maternal.

PREDICTED MATING EPD'S:

Rather than using EPD's for individual animal selection or culling decisions, it is also possible to predict the outcome of a proposed mating by averaging the EPD's of the sire and dam in question. This allows us to estimate the genetic merit of a proposed breeding without actually investing all the time and effort into breeding the animals unless there is potential to produce an animal of superior genetic merit. The table to follow gives an example of how you can predict the EPD's for the progeny of a proposed mating:

	Birth Wt EPD (Acc)	Wng Wt EPD (Acc)	Ylg Wt EPD (Acc)	Milk EPD (Acc)	Tot Mat EPD (Acc)
SIRE	+4.0 (0.76)	+9.2 (0.66)	+25.2 (0.59)	+4.6 (0.50)	+9.2 (0.55)
DAM	-0.7 (0.42)	-0.4 (0.57)	+4.3 (0.52)	-4.1 (0.48)	-1.3 (.52)
PROGENY EST	+1.65 lbs.	+4.4 lbs.	+14.75	+0.25 lbs.	+2.45 lbs.

CHAROLAIS BREED AVERAGE EPD'S FOR 2020/2021:

BW: 0.8 WW: 44.5 YW: 85.7 Milk: 21.3 TM: 43.5

These are the averages to compare the Yearling Bulls in the catalogue to.
